Survey: Faculty Service Perceptions

The Faculty Workload Task Force has been charged by the provost with developing recommendations "to ensure a fair distribution of teaching and advising duties across all departments within the University and examine which activities should receive credit toward instructional workload . . . and which as service." (see Provostial White Paper, August 15, 2015)

To that end, all faculty are invited to take part in a survey regarding perceptions of service at FHSU. Your responses will be recorded anonymously.

The survey will be open until April 27, 2016 at midnight. To access the survey, please following this link: https://fhsucahss.qualtrics.com/SE/?SID=SV\_70GVyRAT2tnaMC1

Make a Difference: Study Mass Trauma Intervention

Whether you're responding to natural disasters like tornados or hurricanes, or acts of terrorism, you may find yourself on the front line of intervention. To be a better, more informed responder, and to gain the knowledge and skills that can truly help people who have been impacted by mass trauma incidents, consider taking MASS TRAUMA INTERVENTION (SOCW 615 VA), an online course offered during the Fall 2016 semester.

Through this course, you'll:

- Learn about the history of early crisis intervention
- Examine current disaster and mass violence intervention methods
- Explore post-traumatic stress impacts of disaster and mass violence on diverse communities and family structures
- Gain knowledge of the requirements for recovery for specific targeted populations (children, adolescents, adults) experiencing traumatic injuries
- Learn to apply the same needs assessment evaluations and outreach intervention methods used by emergency response professionals who deal with mass disasters and violence trauma

This course is ONLINE, has NO PREREQUISITES, and can be taken for undergraduate or graduate credit. If you're ready to prepare yourself to better serve your community, learn more about this course today.

For more information about the Mass Trauma Intervention (SOCW 615VA) course, contact: Dr. Patricia Levy at 785-628-4389 or via email at plevy@fhsu.edu.

FASTigers and Post Rock FHSU Chapters to join forces

The FHSU Alumni Association is proud to assist Tigers across Kansas and the nation in developing chapters for area Tiger alumni and friends to gather and share in the spirit and pride of Fort Hays State! Chapters hold a variety of events throughout the year, including athletic watch or pre-/post-game parties, picnics, game nights, happy hours, BBQs, student recruitment activities and more!

To assist us with this restructuring, we are seeking your input to develop future Tiger gatherings and events. Please help our planning committee by taking a couple of minutes to complete this survey. Your comments and suggestions are essential to future planning of such activities. We need to know what you like, what you don't like, or what may interest you and your family in terms of attending. Your feedback is very important.

Immigration Awareness Week

April 25-28

Dreamers United for Success (DUS) is an organization recently established at Fort Hays State University. This organization serves to provide support and resources for students who are in the DACA, which stands for Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals, program. This organization primarily focuses on raising awareness to the rest of the student population on campus about what DACA is and about the students who are in this program. As a way to continue raising awareness, DUS will host an event by the name of Immigration Awareness Week. This will be a weeklong event in which students may come and participate to learn more about different immigration issues and concerns that have risen in the past years.

The following outline provides more in depth detail of how the week will evolve.

- Monday, April 25 – Discussion Board
 A white board will be placed in the Forsyth library front lobby and students will have the chance to engage in answering questions that regard different immigration issues that are currently present in the United States. The answers to questions will be completely anonymous, as students will be writing their answers on small paper butterflies that will then be hung on the whiteboard. This will allow current students to engage in a thoughtful discussion in regards to the questions being asked.
- Tuesday, April 26 – Photo Activity
 Activity in which students may be photographed with the year their family immigrated to the United States. The group will have somebody taking the pictures with an ‘Est. ____’ sign in the Memorial Union from 10:30am-3:00pm and in the front lobby of the library from 3:00-6:00pm. The group will then create a PowerPoint to display how immigration is present in many different families. This event will also help reflect on the time families have been here and to show what impact they have made or had in this country. Students will be encouraged to take picture with the signs to represent their family’s story moving to the U.S.A.
- Wednesday, April 27 – Photo Activity
 DUS will be photographing students with a large pair of butterfly wings. The wings are a symbol of peace and opportunity, as well as migration. Peace and opportunity is what Dreamers wish for every day and by using the butterfly wings, students can allow themselves to feel that peace and chance of opportunity. The students will be encouraged to post these pictures on social media using a hashtag to represent the whole event. These pictures will then become a highlight of the event and the whole purpose around it. Photos will be taken all day in the Forsyth Library Front Lobby and the Quad Tree Area.
- Thursday, April 28 – General Information Session
 In conclusion to all the events, DUS will host a general information session in which professionals/students will discuss more in depth what DACA stands for and provide more information in regards to the program. Students who are currently in the DACA program will have a small recap of the event and share their stories, as well as their thoughts about the week. This event will be held in Cody Commons from 4:00pm – 5:00pm
